U. S. Is Serious About Red Charges In Teacher Cases

Marshall Says Soviet Protest Will Be Answered in 24 Hours

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today the United States views with serious concern the Russian charges against this government and some of its officials in connection with refugee school teacher cases in New York.

Marshall said Soviet protests about American handling of the cases probably will be answered formally within the next 24 hours. He said a note is in process of preparation, based on reports from authorities in New York city.

The note will be made public after it is delivered to the Soviets, Marshall said. Presumably it will be given to Russian Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin in Washington.

Panyushkin made three of the four Soviet protests here. The other was made by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov to U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith in Moscow.

Marshall gave a "no comment" reply when asked whether the American reply to the Russians might include a request to Moscow to recall the Russian consul general in New York, Jakob M. Lomakin.

Such an action is known to be under consideration by Marshall's top advisers in the State Department.

In discussing the New York cases, Marshall referred partly to the affair of Mrs. Okana Kosenkina and her colleagues. She escaped from the Soviet consulate in New York last Thursday by jumping out of a third floor window.

Meanwhile, diplomatic authorities are puzzling over indications that the Soviet Union is closing all the schools it had operated in many countries for the children of its diplomats and other employees abroad.

It was in connection with the closing of such a school in New York that Mrs. Okana Kosenkina and her colleagues, Mr. and Mrs. Mikhail Samarin, decided they would prefer to stay in this country rather than go back to Russia.

But on July 31 more than 300 Soviet citizens, mostly school children and their mothers, did sail from New York on the Russian motor ship Pobeda. Authorities here assume that a similar return to Russia is being required by the Soviet Government of many hundreds of dependents of Russian diplomats and other employees around the world.

Against Western Ideas
The Russian motive in all this is what has official Washington puzzled. Most speculation centers on the possibility that the Soviets want to prevent the "contamination" of their school age children by any contact with western democratic ideas.

Another possibility often suggested by diplomats, however, is that by having the wives and children at home, the Soviet Government in effect holds them hostages against any desire of Russian diplomats to renounce Communism.

Very little credence is placed by officials here in the theory that Moscow might be clearing the decks for discounting this idea is that the Russians are permitting childless families and those with only pre-school age children to remain abroad.

The Soviets operated two schools in this country, one in Washington for embassy personnel and the other in New York for the consulate staff and the Soviet delegations to the United Nations.

Mrs. Kosenkina and the Samarins were teachers in the New York school. The State Department already has made it plain that the Samarins and Mrs. Kosenkina will be given asylum in this country in line with longstanding American tradition. But other important decisions remain to be made.

Spy Probers Jubilant at Admission Made by Witness in New York; Hiss Knew Chambers as 'Crosley'

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—Congressional spy probers pointed jubilantly today to a 1934-35 link between Alger Hiss, former State Department official, and Whitaker Chambers, avowed one-time member of a Red underground.

Hiss himself admitted the connection by identifying Chambers as a man he knew years ago as "George Crosley" and as a free lance writer.

That happened yesterday in New York, before members of the House Un-American Committee and again at a news conference called by Hiss.

Previously, Chambers had testified under oath that Hiss was a member of the pre-war Red underground. Chambers insisted had operated in Washington. And Hiss, also under oath, denied it. He denied, too, knowing anyone by the name of Whitaker Chambers. He said he could not identify Chambers by a picture.

He still is sticking to his statement that he is no Communist and never has been.

But committee members said they are on stronger ground now that Hiss admits he knew Chambers at one time. Some of them had been saying their investigation would be hurt badly if it developed that Chambers actually never had known Hiss.

Hiss now is head of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace. Chambers is a senior editor of Time Magazine.

Chambers told the committee on Aug. 3 that he joined the Communist party in 1924, quit in 1937 and for several years thereafter served in its underground, mainly in Washington.

He listed Hiss as one of the members of this underground "apparatus." He said its original purpose was to infiltrate the government but "espionage was certainly one of its eventual objectives."

Chambers said that when he turned against the Reds, he went to Hiss' home to urge him to break with the underground. He said Hiss wept but refused.

Hiss put in his denials to the Chambers charges on Aug. 5.

The committee for the first time brought the two of them face to face yesterday afternoon in a New York hotel room. Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said afterward that Hiss "positively identified" Chambers.

Hiss told reporters later that at the meeting Chambers said: "Alger, we were both Communists."

Hiss said he threw up his hands at that and denied again to the committee that he was a Red.

This was the way Hiss outlined his relationship with the man he said he knew as Crosley.

Fifteen years ago, "Crosley" asked him for some material for magazine articles. Hiss at the time was a legal assistant to the Senate Munitions Investigating Committee. (The committee was headed by former Senator Gerald P. Nye, North Dakota Republican.)

During the winter of 1934-35, Hiss crossed 10 or 11 times. He said he subtlet an apartment to Crosley and that Chambers conceded last night he was in Hiss' apartment that winter.

Hiss said Crosley failed to pay the rent, and they parted on "not very pleasant terms."

This was not long before Hiss went to the State Department. Later, in 1945, he served as secretary-general of the conference which founded the United Nations.

In their first appearances before the committee, Hiss and Chambers were both calm.

Hiss said he was not a Communist and never has been. He said he was not a member of the Red underground and never had been.

Chambers said he was a member of the Red underground and had been. He said he was not a Communist and never has been. He said he was not a member of the Red underground and never had been.

Confusion Is Picture Of Shipping

Strike Is Set Walkout Date Put Down for Midnight Saturday

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—America's world-ranging maritime industry wallowed today in an ocean of labor-management bitterness, legal complexities, and general confusion.

The ships were still moving but the government had to take extraordinary measures to keep them going.

President Truman, for the second time in the shipping industry, used the national emergency provision of the Taft-Hartley law last night to stave off a strike of the A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Association.

This strike is set for Saturday midnight. It would freeze all shipping between Portland, Maine, and Hampton Roads, Va., including vessels bound for Europe with Marshall Plan shipments.

The central dispute is over methods of paying for the work. Mr. Truman ordered an inquiry board to report by Friday. As soon as he receives this report he is empowered to seek a court order that could prevent the strike for about 80 days.

Another threatened strike by 60,000 C.I.O. seamen was averted meanwhile when the National Maritime Union reached a wage agreement with 42 Atlantic and Gulf Coast shipping companies.

After an 11-hour bargaining session in New York, the union and the operators agreed to a $25 a month pay boost for boatswains and a $12.50 increase for other ratings.

The pact—subject to ratification by the union membership—also provides for retention of hiring halls until a court ruling on the legality of this system under the Taft-Hartley Act. Hiring halls in which the union picks men for jobs—had been the main issue in dispute.

The N.M.U., along with several other maritime unions, had been under a strike-banning Federal Court injunction, but this was due to expire September 2 after which the seamen could walk out legally.

This settlement, however, does not affect the N.M.U. dispute with the Great Lakes ship owners, or similar tangles on the west coast.

National Labor Relations Board attorneys are confronted by a puzzle in these other cases.

Under the national emergency provision of the Taft-Hartley Act, they are supposed to conduct an election during the 15 days between August 13 and August 28 to see whether the employees want to accept the "last offers" of their employers.

Charles M. Brooks, N.L.R.B. associate general counsel, told a news conference yesterday that it would be "humanly impossible" to do the job in that length of time with seamen scattered all over the oceans of the earth.

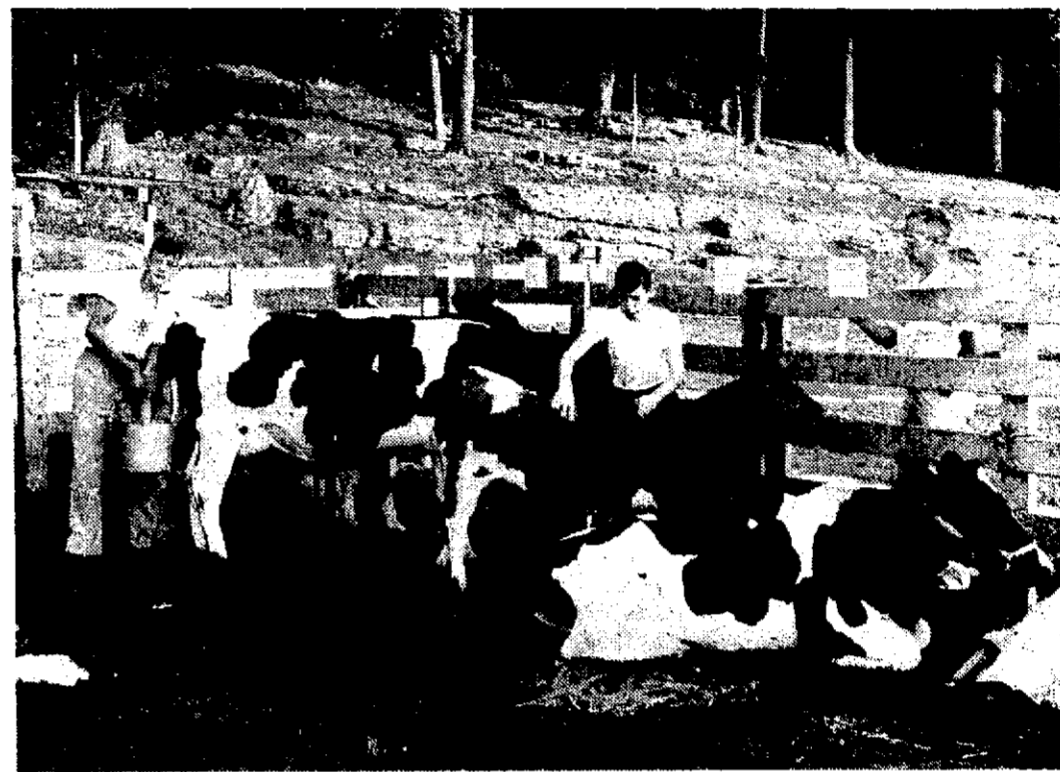

A "wild guess," said Brooks, is that five weeks would be required. He said the mechanics of the poll will be worked out within a few days.

The N.L.R.B. is supposed to report the results of the election by September 2. When this report is made the injunctions are supposed to be dissolved, leaving the unions legally free to strike.

But if the election result can't be certified until after September 2, what happens to the injunctions? Can they be extended? Brooks said that is in the realm of the Justice Department. The Justice Department had no comment.

Sentenced Is Suspended
Harry Gage of 46 Hoffman street, arraigned in City Court this morning for possessing a book of chance, commonly known as "policy," received a suspended sentence from Special City Judge Francis Martocci, who remarked that those responsible for running the games should be arrested. Acting Detective William Krum, who arrested Gage Monday at 11 a. m., reported that he said one of the policy slips and represented himself as an agent.

Early Arrivals at County Fair

Early Hour

Booths Increase More Spacious Main Grounds Are Taken This Year

A day promising continued sunshine attracted early crowds at the Ulster County Fair and Farmer's Field day today at Forsyth Park to view displays of the county's achievements with nature, science and "elbow grease."

Small groups, on the grounds at the opening hour, began growing through the morning to reach what is expected to be a record attendance, and many who arrived early selected choice seats on the ledges under the pines which serve as a natural grandstand.

Exhibitors in the agricultural, educational and commercial booths were still busy arranging their displays between 9 and 10 a. m., but many had been completed earlier in the morning.

More space on the main display grounds was used this year than at any other time and the commercial displays included the latest in farm and home appliances and all like exhibits appeared to have added color and interest.

Neat rows and box patterns of fruits and vegetables by 4-H Club, Home Bureau and Grange units were exhibited under canvas and all were appetizing as well as aesthetically attractive.

Fruits Are Shown
Fruit displays included early apples and pears of the area and the vegetable variety, includes about everything grown in the county even to the "egg tomato."

Work of the hands that better the table is an inspiration in the Grange and home-making display and these include attractive jars of canned goods and about everything baked in home ranges.

Grange booths particularly looked like testimony to a bumper crop season and many were virtual works of art in arrangement. Other booths show handicraft, flowers and a variety of clothing made by young people and various Home Bureau units, which are marked by the slogan: "We Make Our Own Clothes."

Out front in one of the permanent sheds of the park women were at work through the day demonstrating the canning of chairs and under the same roof were displays of photography and handicraft.

Among new displays this year was that of the Horseshoe Chimney Ranch of Hurley which exhibited a pair of the expensive chinchillas and two young ones. This was also in the front shed.

A display important to farming was that of the Ulster County Agricultural Conservation Association, 54 John street, showing the right and wrong way to plow and prepare farmlands for planting. The miniature exhibit represented a section of hillside acreage with the new and old methods illustrated.

Cattle was lined up in stalls before the opening hour and patiently awaited finding of judges. Action in the ring horse show and cattle judo, was not scheduled to start until later in the day.

Other displays included toys, hobbies, a variety of items and appliances for the home and some food which was only temporarily on display such as the hot dogs. Lines of youngsters gathered near the hot dog stand before the busy women there had them ready, and the line continued a steady one.

Once a camp had a display of art work turned out by its young people, and the exhibits of the 4-H Club units occupied part of one large tent, and a section of another area on the grounds.

The display of fowl, including all varieties raised in the county, appeared to be an exceptionally large one this year, and behind it was a display of rabbits.

Some of the crowd, which began settling for picnic lunches near noon, also attended the program of athletic events in the municipal stadium grounds adjacent to the park. This is a special event in conjunction with the fair, and at

Charter Hearing Is Set For Tonight at Hall

The public hearing on the proposed revisions to the city charter will be held in the city court room, city hall, tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The hearing was called by the laws and rules committee to hear all persons desiring to speak for or against the proposed charter revisions before that committee submits its report to the entire Common Council, which will meet in recessed session Tuesday, August 24.

Murray Is Pleased At Truman 'Hay'

Watkins Says Only Those for President Are Impressed

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—Senator Murray (D-Mont.) contended today that President Truman is making political hay with his attacks on Congress, but Senator Watkins (R-Utah) promptly disputed this.

In a running argument that won't be settled until the November 6 election, Murray told a reporter all the signs point to public approval—particularly in the west—of the criticisms that Mr. Truman has leveled at Congress.

"From the mail I'm getting," the Montana senator said, "the people think the President is right in making an issue of Congress' failure to do anything about the high cost of living. They are cheering him on."

But Watkins had another story. He said the only people in his state who are impressed by Mr. Truman's statements "are those who would be for him anyway."

The same sort of dispute—only wordier—leaped into print in today's final post-session of the congressional record.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, the G.O.P. House leader, drafted a full-blown defense of the record of the 80th Congress. It ran some 10,000 words.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader and vice presidential nominee, whipped out a 200-word criticism of the special session, augmented by a long table aimed at countering Republican economy claims.

The Republican and Democratic national committees released the respective statements before they appeared in the record.

Halleck fed off with the observation that "the overwhelming majority of the American people"

Companies Offer Bids Up to $450,000; Cost Set Originally at $150,000

Woodstock, Aug. 18—Prospects for Woodstock's water supply system at this time began to fade Tuesday afternoon as Consulting Engineer C. J. Keis opened and read 15 bids which indicated at first glance a cost somewhere in the neighborhood of at least $450,000, while the appropriation allowed for the work is $150,000.

Representatives from the 15 bidding companies were present in the Town Clerk's office with Supervisor Kenneth L. Wilson, Justices Harrison Gridley, George Braendly, Town Clerk Grant Elwyn, and John E. Egan, counsel for the Water District.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Supervisor Wilson informed those present that a tabulation would be had by Mr. Keis and released Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Proposals and certified checks were received from Mueller Company, New York city; L. & O. Slutsky, Hunter, New York; Energy Control Company, New York city; Frank Bracalello, Inc., Scarsdale, N. Y.; C. W. Lauman Company, Belknap, Long Island; Badgermeter Mfg. Co., Milwaukee, Wis.; Kennedy Valve & Mfg. Company, Elmira, New York; Rensselaer Valve Company, Troy, New York; Florence Pipe Foundry and Machine Co., Philadelphia; Warren Foundry and Pipe Corporation, New York city; U. S. Pipe and Foundry Company, Philadelphia; Darling Valve & Mfg. Co., Williamsport, Pennsylvania; Ludlow Valve Mfg. Company, Troy, N. Y.; Central Foundry Company; Worthington-Gannon Meter Co., Newark, N. J.

The proposals were divided into three sections. Section One included Wells, Pumping Equipment, Pumping Station Building and Controls. Section Two included the cost of the water supply system. Section Three included the cost of the water supply system. Section Four included the cost of the water supply system.

Section Five included the cost of the water supply system. Section Six included the cost of the water supply system. Section Seven included the cost of the water supply system.

Section Eight included the cost of the water supply system. Section Nine included the cost of the water supply system. Section Ten included the cost of the water supply system.

Section Eleven included the cost of the water supply system. Section Twelve included the cost of the water supply system. Section Thirteen included the cost of the water supply system.

Section Fourteen included the cost of the water supply system. Section Fifteen included the cost of the water supply system. Section Sixteen included the cost of the water supply system.

General Blames Both Factions for Palestine Fighting

Bernadotte's Aides Try to Arrange 'No Fire' Period to Visit Jerusalem

(By The Associated Press)
Gen. A. Lundstroem, chief of staff of the U.N. truce commission in Palestine, blamed both Jews and Arabs today for renewed fighting in Jerusalem.

An Israeli army source said Arabs shelled Jewish positions around southern Jerusalem last night and that machinegun duels were fought in the northeast part of the city near the Damascus gate.

Week-end fighting in the Holy City was the worst since the United Nations imposed its second truce last month.

U.N. truce headquarters said one of its planes was fired on. Continued on Page Five

TB Hospital Announces New Wednesday Clinics

The Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital announces that a new chest clinic will be held at the hospital every Wednesday evening from 5:30 to 7:30. The new clinic has become necessary in order to relieve the increasing attendance of the Monday and Saturday morning tests.

From now on the services of the out-patient clinics will be rendered as follows:
Monday and Saturday 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. Wednesday 5:30 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

In addition, there will be field clinics every Tuesday and Friday afternoon which will be held in the different townships of the county.

In view of the fact that at other times the X-ray Department must be utilized for the in-patients, the above schedule will be observed for all out-patients requiring a chest examination.

Dewey May Answer Truman On Criticism of Congress

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Albany, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey booked a conference today with House Speaker Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass.) amid indications there will be a Dewey retort to President Truman's criticism of the Republican 80th Congress.

The G.O.P. presidential nominee, however, he will withhold his fire on that issue until the campaign gets underway.

The matter came up at a joint news conference the New York governor held late yesterday with his vice presidential running mate, Gov. Earl Warren of California.

A reporter asked whether Dewey had any comment on Mr.

"What a day," White said. "The Babe sat me on his lap before the game and shook my hand. Babe was my guiding interest."

First in line today were Jerry Clifford, 28, and William Gamble, 19, of Brooklyn. Behind them were Gerard Holste, 32, a meat dealer, and his wife, Rose, 25, who drove from Baltimore early this morning.

It was nearly midnight last night before the last of the mourners had viewed the casket.

Most of the crowd waited in line for almost two hours for a final glimpse of the man who always made spectacular drama out of a ball game.

At times, the line of mourners—standing five abreast—completely surrounded the huge park.

Liquor Authority Gives Primary Day Rules

John F. O'Connell, chairman of the New York State Liquor Authority, 270 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y., announced today the prohibited hours for the sale of liquor, wine, and beer throughout the state of New York on Primary Day, Tuesday, August 24, 1948.

Section 105 (14c) of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law provides that "no premises licensed to sell liquor and/or wine for off-premises consumption shall be permitted to remain open on any day of a general or primary election during the hours when the polls are open."

Section 106 (5c) of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law provides that "no alcoholic beverages shall be sold, offered for sale, or given away upon any premises licensed to sell alcoholic beverages at retail for on-premises consumption on any day of a general or primary election during the hours when the polls are open."

Grocery stores and drug stores licensed to sell liquor for off-premises consumption are prohibited from selling beer while the polls are open in those counties where the Local Alcoholic Beverage Control Board has restricted its sale on Primary Day. There are no restrictions in this respect as regards sales of liquor for off-premises consumption by grocery stores and drug stores in New York City.

Local Death Record

Private funeral services were held at 2 p. m. today for Theodore Meyer, of Pine Hill, from the Gormley Funeral Home in Phoenixia. Burial was in Shandaken Rural Cemetery.

Homier Barnes, husband of Anne Coughlin Barnes of Kingston, died unexpectedly today in Philadelphia. The funeral cortege will arrive in Kingston on Saturday, August 21, with interment scheduled at St. Mary's Cemetery at 1:30 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited.

The funeral of Fred Craig was held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Down street. The casket was hanked by a profusion of floral pieces. The Rev. William R. Peckham, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, officiated at the graveside in Rosendale Plains Cemetery.

Ella Lavey, formerly of Phoenixia, died suddenly in New York City. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Christopher Louth of Ashokan and Mrs. William Clancy of Albany. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 8:30 a. m. at the Gormley Funeral Home, Phoenixia, and thence to St. Francis De Sales Church where a high Mass of requiem will be offered at 9 a. m. for the repose of her soul. Burial will be in the family plot in St. Francis De Sales Cemetery.

Miss Catherine A. Mullen, a former resident of Kingston, died Monday in New York City. Miss Mullen was a second lieutenant nurse during World War I. She is survived by several nieces and nephews. Hiss Says . . .

for the committee, Chambers and Hiss both spoke so convincingly that many members said they didn't know which one to believe. Sometime one or the other ought to be prosecuted for perjury.

Then last Monday, Hiss was questioned again. The committee proposed a lie detector test. Hiss said last night he would mail his answer today.

Row Was Started

The members and staff of the committee raised their right hands and took an oath to tell about the lie detector suggestion. When word of it leaked into the newspapers, members got into a row. That discussion still is simmering so hotly it may boil up into an open fight.

One member who said he took the word of secrecy has promised to demand at the next meeting that the committee investigate itself to find the source of the leak.

But Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-N. J.) rejected the idea of such an inquiry.

"We are investigating espionage," he told reporters. "In a statement issued through his office here, Rep. Klein (D-N. Y.) asked:

"Why doesn't the chairman put his staff of super-sleuths to work to find out who is feeding unauthorized statements to favored individuals in the Washington press corps? Is there a third spy ring in the inner circle of the Committee on Un-American Activities?"

Klein said the committee has been playing politics. He said it and its members have been issuing "wild and irresponsible statements" to meet newspaper deadlines.

These, he said, "are doing more to destroy faith in the American form of government than anything the committee has managed to 'expose' in its whole career of unsubstantiated charges."

Klein is not a member of the committee.

Meeting Arranged

Yesterday afternoon, Thomas, Nixon and Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) hopped a New York train to bring Hiss and Chambers to testify. Chief Justice Roger Robert E. Stripling and four other members of the committee staff went along.

Nixon telegraphed word back to Washington of the meeting in the Commodore Hotel.

"This," he said, "is probably one of the big stories of some time." "Alger Hiss testified before an executive session of the committee in New York today and he positively identified Whitaker Chambers as a man he had known under another name.

The impression given to the public was that Hiss (Hiss) had never known this man at all. This identification today is a direct contrast with that impression."

Nixon said Hiss indicated he had known "George Crosley" over a two-year period and that it certainly was considerably more than a passing acquaintance.

Chambers, Nixon said, held to a story that Hiss knew him under his Communist party name of Carl. He said Chambers did not recall using the name of George Crosley.

Hiss in his own version to reporters said:

"I asked him if he had been known to me as Crosley and he said no."

When he saw Chambers' photograph in Washington, Hiss said, there was something "vaguely familiar." Last night he said he noticed a change in the facial appearance.

He might as well have had his face lifted," Hiss remarked.

Says Voice Higher

Furthermore, he said, Chambers' voice seemed slightly higher.

The New York meeting, Nixon said, was simply to make sure there was no case of mistaken identity in advance of open hearings at which the two men again will meet face to face. These hearings are billed for Washington on August 25.

And for September 7, the committee has scheduled a resumption of full hearings into stories that Red spy rings extracted "time secrets from government officials and sent them to Moscow."

Chairman Thomas has said the hearings are intended to complete the present espionage case and "to bring into full focus the operations of still another espionage ring which secured some of our most vital information."

Thomas wouldn't talk about this new ring. But reports have been in circulation that the committee has some evidence that the Communists had agents here trying to grab important industrial secrets.

With some digs at President Truman, Thomas yesterday accused the administration of lack of cooperation which he said has obstructed committee efforts to pry out the truth about spying.

Similar complaints have been made by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) as chairman of a Senate committee which has been looking into the government's loyalty program.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—Demand for stocks dropped off almost before it began in today's market.

A brief opening flurry of buying lifted numerous issues fractionally but from there on most shares drifted along more or less aimlessly. In some cases early gains were lost or trimmed.

A fair amount of activity developed at the opening, then quickly subsided.

Many brokers claimed there wasn't enough in the news to influence any step-up in operations. Signs of an imminent climax in four-power negotiations was rated as a brake on business.

Higher at one time were Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, Schenley, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, General Electric, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, United Fruit, Chesapeake & Ohio, Richfield Oil, and Warner Bros.

Among a handful of losers were U. S. Steel, Young & Rubicam, U. S. Rubber, Consolidated Natural Gas, and N. Y. Central.

Airline shares staged a little rally of their own, with higher prices paid for Pan American, United Airlines, Eastern Airlines and Transcontinental & Western Air.

Air transportation officials are known to be vigorously engaged in searching for new methods to cut costs and step up revenues, with impressive results in some directions. A current squabble within the industry is concerned with the desirability of cutting out free meals and some other services now offered by the air carriers.

In the curb higher prices were paid for Cities Service, Creole Petroleum, Marion Power Shovel and Singer Mfg. Sherwin-Williams declined.

while landing on Kalandia airfield. The shots came from a nearby area controlled by the Arabs. The plane was shot down by a Bena-dotte, the U.N. Palestine mediator who is attending a Red Cross meeting in Stockholm, tried to arrange a "no fire period" to visit Government House in Jerusalem, where heavy firing has been going on. The Jews agreed, but the Arabs said nothing.

The Trans-Jordan government said the International Red Cross has reoccupied the building and that Jews, who seized it, have withdrawn. Nine Jewish soldiers, mostly members of Irgun Zvai Leumi, surrounded the steps of Government House yesterday.

Five other Irgunists, arrested after attempting to run an arms ship into Israel during the first truce, said in Tel Aviv, they will begin a hunger strike tomorrow "to the finish." The men are in Beisan prison. They are Peter Bergson, co-president of the American League for Free Palestine and the Irgunist representative in the U. S.; Yankob Meridor, Elyahu Lenkin, Amiztar and Moshe Hasson.

The Israeli high court ruled their detention was legal.

Khalil al-Wazir, Trans-Jordan called on other Arab states to help succor Palestine Arabs driven from their homes by the war. He said his country is spending $1,000,000 a month for their relief.

Dewey May . . .

forence that Martin would be his guest at luncheon today. The New Yorker disclosed no agenda, but friends said the role of the G.O.P. Congress in the campaign might be a topic.

Dewey and Warren met with reporters after they had wound up two days of campaign strategy conferences.

Dewey, who did nearly all of the talking, said he and Warren plan to campaign "extensively from coast to coast and back again."

But no details were announced as to when and where they will speak. The campaign is expected to open shortly after Labor Day. A reporter wanted to know whether the congressional investigation of Communist spy activities would be an issue. Dewey said it would be one "aspect" of the campaign.

Mr. Dewey has stirred up the wrath of Republican legislators by terming the spy inquiry a "red herring," designed to divert attention from the lack of congressional action on prices.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.) in a letter to the Dewey-Warren conference yesterday, he said he had offered his services in the campaign and that he probably would concentrate on foreign affairs and military matters.

Lodge, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, predicted the Dewey-Warren ticket would carry Massachusetts some time Republican standard bearers in presidential elections have not done since 1924.

Shortly after Warren left for New York City where he boarded a plane for Chicago, Dewey conferred with a delegation of Italian-Americans who told him he favors assigning to Italy the role of developing its former African colonies "under the flexible provisions of a United Nations trusteeship."

These colonies now are occupied by the British. Their future, Dewey said, now is being discussed by the United States, Britain, France and Russia.

Warren and Herbert Brownell, Jr., Dewey's campaign manager, both made brief statements in New York City after the Albany conference.

Warren told reporters he and Dewey will do "quite a bit of traveling and quite a bit of speaking."

Brownell, on route back to Washington, said "there will be no mudslinging from the Republican side" during the campaign. He described the Dewey-Warren sessions as "very successful" and said they had covered the critical problems facing the United States today, both domestic and foreign.

Woodstock's . . .

cluded Water Mains, Valves, Hydrants and appurtenances while Section Three was devoted to Standpipes. Each section was broken down to include numerous individual items with few companies bidding on all.

Certified checks accompanying the proposals represented five per cent of the individual's total price. The largest such check was received from Frank Bracalello, Inc., Secaucus, N. Y., in the amount of $23,000.

The plans for the Woodstock water system were approved last October by the Water Power and Control Commission of the state and subsequent drillings and tests made to determine the location for the water supply. These were completed in the late spring of this year. The plan calls for construction of wells on the Bearsville flats between Bearsville and Woodstock and water would be pumped to the center of the village through a six-inch pipe and from there distributed through 6,900 feet of eight-inch water mains and 24,840 feet of six-inch mains. To plan also calls for a 100,000-gallon steel stand pipe to provide pressure and the estimated cost of $150,000 was made in 1945. The commission when approving the plan stated that the figure appeared to be low.

To increase the appropriation for the water system, it was learned that it would be necessary for residents to petition the town board for such increase. In view of the anticipated cost as of this time, it does not appear likely that such petition would be made since it would mean tripling the original appropriation.

called the Associated Press Bureau here to ask what truckloads of helmeted troops and armored cars were doing in the woods. The forest runs through the American and British sectors of Berlin. Berlin is deep in the Soviet occupation zone, entirely surrounded by it.

Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, today offered western Berliners 50,000 tons of coal as their "first winter installment."

The official Soviet news agency said the coal would be available a few days for those western residents who had registered for food in the Russian sector.

The Russians proclaimed several weeks ago they would feed all Berlin with grain imported from the Soviet Union. Only a small percent of western Berliners went over to the Russian sector to register for food.

The Soviet news agency announcement also said two additional pounds of flour would be distributed shortly for residents of the Russian sector and western Berliners who registered there for food.

Commenting on the Soviet coal offer, Col. Frank L. Howley, the American commandant, said Berliners are free to do as they like about accepting it. He added:

"We have trains loaded with coal standing ready at the Elbe today waiting for Sokolovsky to give the word so they can proceed to Berlin. We are not interested in promises—only in deliveries. We also are not interested in offers that appear to be bighearted until we can see what political strings are attached to them."

The official Soviet press combined the coal offer with new propaganda attacks on Berlin's anti-Communist city government. It claimed Russian effort to supply the entire city had been "sabotaged" by non-Communist officials.

The allied air lift over the Soviet blockade continued to click at a record rate. In a 24-hour stretch yesterday 619 British and American planes brought in more than 4,100 tons of supplies.

Officials in Washington said last night the air lift has used only eight per cent of its transports as the allied lift met its higher daily goal of more than 4,000 tons of supplies into Berlin.

The officials predicted that within a month the Americans and British will be flying 6,600 tons daily into the German capital.

Western diplomats conferred again at the American embassy in Moscow yesterday on their talks in the Kremlin over the German situation. Informants said events were moving toward a climax.

They predicted it will not be long before the western envoys have a second meeting with Prime Minister Stalin.

U. S. Air Force officials in Frankfurt reported last night the bodies of all 20 persons killed aboard a C-47 American transport plane that crashed last winter in the Italian Alps have been recovered.

Communists belabored anti-Communist hecklers with lead pipes and fists last night at a Red-sponsored mass meeting in the French sector of Berlin. Several persons wound up with bloody heads and lacerations.

Woodstock Club Leader Takes Issue With Ed Sullivan

Woodstock, Aug. 18.—Woodstock again came into the limelight on Monday of this week when Ed Sullivan wrote in his Little Old New York column for the New York Daily News, "Wallace drive in Woodstock's arty set appears headed by Broadway pinkies and Commies."

When asked to comment upon this statement, Howard Bird, president of the Woodstock Wallace for President Club, said "It is an historical fact that when a new movement such as the Progressive party fights with the weapons of reason and truth for the betterment of the people which the opposition cannot counter then they, the opposition, resort to mudslinging and lying. That is their only and last recourse.

"The cheap practice of rebuilding merely shows the moral disintegration of the two old parties and the terrible fear in them of the growing strength of the people's candidate for president, Henry Wallace."

Mr. Bird also stated to your reporter that "I am not a Communist. Our club is spearheaded only by the executive committee, the members of which are not associated with Broadway." He stated that some 10 years ago he had been in a Broadway production.

Helen Martin, some years ago was also associated with the theatre. President Bird said he had no idea whom the columnist could be referring to and asserted that they would welcome outside infiltration and assistance with the tremendous amount of work they had to do.

With the exception of Sam Kinner, of the Art Students League, all of the members of the executive board are permanent residents of Woodstock. They are Mrs. Helen Martin, vice-chairman; Mrs. Freida Mine, treasurer; Howard Mandel, campaign manager; James Turnbull, publicity; Mrs. Betty Pollet, membership; and Mrs. Katherine Bird, secretary.

APRICOTS ABUNDANT, USE THEM

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

This year's apricot crop, according to reports, will be about 35 per cent larger than last year's. So that puts apricots in the group of plentiful foods.

From pie experts in the state of Washington comes this recipe:

Fresh Apricot Pie

Three cups fresh apricots, halved, ¾ to 1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 pastry recipe for double crust.

Line a pie plate with pastry. Arrange fresh ripe apricots close together. Combine flour and sugar. Sprinkle over fruit. Add sprinklings of lemon juice. Dot with butter. Cover with top crust, perforated to allow steam to escape. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 50 to 60 minutes. Pie may be sprinkled with cinnamon if desired.

Apricot Marmalade

Five pounds apricots, 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple, 3 lemons, 10 cups sugar, 12 apricot kernels. Wash and remove pits from the apricots. Drain the juice from the

Governor Hunt Is Chosen

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 18 (AP)—Wyoming Democrats in a primary election yesterday chose Gov. Lester C. Hunt to contest Senator R. V. Robertson, the Republican incumbent, for a six year term in November. Robertson was unopposed in the Republican primary for nomination to his second term. Hunt piled up nearly a ten-to-one lead over his opponent, Carl Johnson, Cheyenne public accountant. Incumbent Rep. Frank Barrett, Lusk Republican, and L. G. (Pat) Flannery, Torrington Democrat, will battle for the state's lone seat in the U. S. House.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

South Mentions Suit
So It Won't Be Led

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Recently I had the pleasure of visiting at the home of Charles Lochridge of New York city, secretary of the Vanderbilt Cup committee, and one of the best and most popular bridge players in the country. Another guest was John Rau. Anyone who has been playing contract since 1928 or 1929 will remember the name of John Rau. He was the youngster who introduced psychic bidding.

While talking about some of the old-timers in bridge, the name of P. Hal Sims came up. Rau remarked that one of Sims' great points was to make good cards and bad breaks work for him, and today's hand illustrates that particular point.

South's bid of three spades is a good one, because he does not want a spade lead. It might knock out his spade control quickly, and, if he lost another trick, the opponents could cash two spade tricks.

♠ K J 8	♥ 8 5 4 3	♦ 9 3	♣ A Q 10
♠ 10 8 5 2	♥ J	♦ Q J 10 8	♣ 7 6 4 3
♠ 7 5 2	♥ Q J 10 8	♦ 8 7 5 2	♣ 4 3 2
♠ A 7 4	♥ A K 7 5 3	♦ A 5	♣ K 6 3
Rubber—Both vul.

1 ♠	Pass	2 N.T.	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	5 ♠	Pass
Opening—♦ Q

Also, the spade bid assures another bid by partner. In the old days, after both hands had shown strength, the jump to a slam was made immediately.

The three-spade bid may not have prevented a spade lead, but West had a possible spade opening, and after the spade bid the natural diamond opening was made. South won this with the ace, cashed the ace and king of hearts—and found a bad break in trumps.

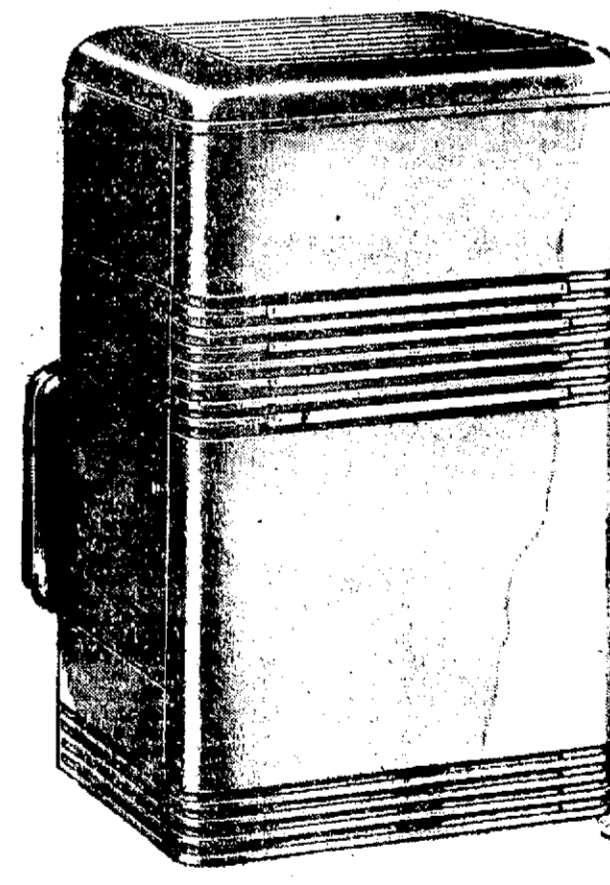

Some players might say, "There is nothing to worry about. All I have to do is to take the spade finesse." But Rau pointed out that the correct thing to do is to draw three rounds of clubs, stripping both the North and South hands of that suit, then go over to dummy's king of diamonds and ruff a diamond. South knows where the queen of hearts is, so all he has to do is to lead a heart, throw East in the lead, and East is forced either to give him a shift and a ruff, or lead into the king-jack of spades. South thereby makes a bad break in trumps work for him.

Christians Called To Halt Doctrine

London, Aug. 18 (AP)—Translated into more than 100 languages, a call to Christians to oppose Communism was dispatched today to all corners of the earth. It was sent by the Lambeth Conference.

The conference report was published last night in the form of a volume presenting the views of 329 archbishops and bishops of the Anglican and associated churches who met in London for five weeks.

It was the first Lambeth Conference—a deliberative church body wielding great influence but possessing no legislative authority since 1930. The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Rev. G. F. Fisher, was its president.

The conference adopted a resolution stating it is recognized that many practicing Christians believe in some political doctrines of Communism and that such belief is not inconsistent with their religion.

Nevertheless, the bishops and archbishops, including the highest authorities of the Church of England and the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, were vigorous in their opposition to Marxian Communism, which, they said, is contrary to Christian faith and practice.

The conference urged Christians to work for the elimination of war, and urged nations to refrain from using the atom bomb, but took the attitude that occasionally war must be waged "as the lesser of two evils."

Other conclusions of the conference included: A human rights declaration, pledging a campaign for full attainment of such rights everywhere.

A reassertion of the church's objection to the remarriage of divorced persons.

A recommendation that the city of Jerusalem be placed under international control permanently.

A rejection of proposals, made by China, that women be admitted to the priesthood.

An expression of hope that unification of all non-Roman Christian Churches may be attained.

The archbishop of Canterbury said at a news conference that there is nothing essentially new in the Lambeth conclusions but that church problems were approached with "a fresh sense of urgency." What appeared to be a tendency in the report toward political liberalism, he said, is merely an expression of Christian principles.

Man's Body Found In Shallow Grave

Sonoma, Calif., Aug. 18 (AP)—The gruesome discovery of a man's dismembered body at an auto camp near here today landed the victim's wife in jail on a charge of suspicion of murder.

Sheriff-Coroner Don Vars said Mrs. Ada Hansen, sometimes known as Peters, had given an oral statement admitting poisoning Otto Hansen, about 45, cutting the body in pieces, and burying them in a shallow grave over which gay colored flowers later grew.

Complaints of an unpleasant odor led the auto camp management to the remains yesterday. The man was believed to have been dead about four months.

Chief Deputy Sheriff George Lawson, who arrested Mrs. Hansen at Modesto, told Vars the woman, after first denying the slaying, gave this version of Hansen's death:

Ailing several years, he asked her to help him commit suicide. She gave him sleeping tablet capsules containing strychnine. Because he had requested no funeral, she cut up the body and buried it. Then she planted flowers over the grave.

Vars said the Hansens came here from Emmett, Idaho last December. Camp residents reported a disturbance at their cabin early one morning in mid-April. Later that day, Mrs. Hansen told the camp manager her husband had gone back to Idaho.

Farm and Fund Attached by Soviets

Moscow, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Literary Gazette today labelled Reed Farm and the Tolstoy Fund in the United States a "snakes' nest."

Discussing Countess Alexandra Tolstoy and her connection with the Kosenkina case, Writer Andrei Kozhin declared that since the end of the war the Tolstoy Fund has been preparing "spies and diversionary agents against the U.S.S.R."

(Countess Tolstoy operates Reed Farm in New York state, as a White Russian retreat with funds from the Tolstoy Foundation, set up to honor Russian Novelist Leo Tolstoy. Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, a Russian school teacher, was taken from Reed Farm by Russian consular officials on August 7. Five days later she leaped from a third story window of the consulate in New York city and now is in a New York hospital.)

Before the war, Kozhin wrote, Countess Tolstoy, in an address at Harvard during the post-Munich pact period, called for "War, war, war against Russia." He said she earned a fortune for this from Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Dana, Harvard specialist in Russian literature.

In addition, Kozhin wrote, Countess Tolstoy was heard to tell friends in 1941, when Germans occupied the Count Leo Tolstoy estate near Tula, "Thank God, at last in my father's study there will be sitting cultured people."

Lyonsville Barn Is Destroyed

Damage estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000 was inflicted as a result of a fire in the barn of Max Jacobs of Lyonsville Tuesday about 5:30 p. m., the owner said today. The barn was a total loss as was a small building near a well. A chicken coop, located about 75 feet from the barn, was saved. The destroyed barn was partially filled with hay but fortunately there were no horses or cattle inside at the time of the blaze. According to the firemen from the High Falls Fire Department and the Accord Fire Department a metal roof was helpful in saving other buildings on the property. (Freeman Photo)

Lions Club Hears Talk by Yerry About City Charter

Under provisions of the proposed new city charter "our Mayor would really be a big shot," George E. Yerry Jr., business agent of the Kingston Metal Trades Council, told members of the local Lions Club at its luncheon meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday.

The local labor leader praised the work of the charter commission, said he knew it was the intention of its chairman, John Schwenk, "to produce a charter that would work," and then stressed many provisions which he thought would not work.

These included the mayor's chairmanship of all city boards including the proposed Board of Estimate, new limits on the power of the councilmen, a provision making it mandatory to award contracts to the lowest bidder, even though he is non-resident, and a provision, which he charged, leaves the city open to the possibility of many lawsuits.

The speaker said he is "100 per cent opposed" to the proposed charter as it stands, and he believes that the common council should not be hasty in placing it before the voters. It is scheduled for hearing tonight, and the Lions Club will be represented by a committee at the session.

Security of civil service workers could be threatened under terms of the charter, he held, and although opposed to the powers of the mayor under the proposed charter, it was his opinion that "the $6,500 a year is not salary enough for any mayor."

G.L.F. Meeting Scheduled Aug. 24

High Falls, August 18—Local patrons of G.L.F. will hold their annual meeting at the Stone Ridge Grange Hall, on Tuesday, August 24, starting at 8:15 p. m., Stanley Roosa, local committee chairman, announced today.

District Manager Daniel Baright, Poughkeepsie, will report on last year's operations of G.L.F., and the program will include a full-color sound motion picture entitled "From These Roots," which depicts the story of how farmers have worked together from the barn raising of early days on down to their modern co-operatives which they use to secure their farm production supplies and to sell farm products.

The movie was largely filmed in central New York locations.

Other reports on local G.L.F. matters have been scheduled. Patrons will have an opportunity to discuss G.L.F. policies. An interesting and varied entertainment program is being planned.

Two members of the Patrons' Committee will be elected to succeed C. M. Hardenbergh and Howard Basten both of Stone Ridge, whose terms are expiring. Stanley Steen, High Falls, and Joseph Pratt, Stanley Roosa and Roy Webber, all of Stone Ridge, continue as committeemen. Walter Davenport Sons & High Falls Hardware Co. are the joint agent buyers.

Chairman Roosa, pointed out that local patrons' annual meetings provide farmer-members with the machinery for controlling their cooperative. Local committeemen elected at these meetings not only determine policies for G.L.F. operations in the community, but also pay an important part in deciding policies of the Cooperative G.L.F. Exchange system which is used by more than 83,000 farmers in New York, New Jersey and northern Pennsylvania.

Passengers Unhurt In Palz Accident

Occupants of two cars which collided at North Front and Church streets, New Palz, at about 8:10 p. m., Tuesday, escaped uninjured, according to the state police at Highland.

A car driven by Albert Gilligan, 42 of Main street, Rosendale, headed east on North Front street, overturned at the intersection, the police said.

The other auto, owned and operated by Aleroy DeMartino, 53, of 4 Mansion street, Poughkeepsie, was headed north on Church street. The car which overturned was hit in its right rear, the report said.

Rare Blood Type Isolated; Clue to Medical Mysteries

Baltimore, Aug. 18 (AP)—A new, super-rare human blood type has been isolated by scientists.

It is so rare that it courses through the arteries of only about one person in each 240,000 it is estimated. But it has given the medical profession another clue as to why some blood transfusions cause death or stillbirths.

The new type contains a factor dubbed an "HR double prime."

Identification of the factor was set up by Dr. H. Raymond Peters, physician-in-chief of Mercy Hospital here, and Dr. Alexander S. Weiner, serologist of New York. Just two "HR double prime" cases have been turned up in medical history so far, one in England and the other here.

Recently, Dr. Peters had a patient a woman who had undergone several transfusions over a period of years. She had given birth to a number of stillborn children.

Her blood seemed to match, even to the RH factor, but the transfusions harmed, instead of helped, her.

Dr. Peters sent a sample of her blood to Dr. Weiner. It proved to be identical to serum taken from the British patient.

Finally the new factor was identified. Drs. Peters and Weiner reported their finding in the current issue of the American Journal of Clinical Pathology.

Summer squash or zucchini is good cut in thin crosswise slices and sauteed in a little fat in a skillet; cover it during the cooking, turning the slices a few times, and season well with salt and pepper before serving.

Cargo of 1750 Is at Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Aug. 18 (AP)—A cargo of supplies shipped from England 198 years ago arrived in Philadelphia yesterday.

The supplies—including such items as pewter plates, silver shoe buckles, square nails, and two pointed forks—were taken from an early 18th Century English vessel which sank about 1750 with a cargo consigned to Colonial residents of Philadelphia.

The ship was discovered two weeks ago by army engineers who were dredging the Delaware river near Thorofore, N. J. It was about 30 feet under water.

Divers were sent down last week and yesterday contents of the ship were pulled ashore by a suction pipe.

Dr. Marshall W. S. Swan, curator of the American-Swedish Museum said the ship must have been sunk in the channel in 1750. He explained that markings found on some of the pewter plates indicated they had been made at that time.

A lock was engraved with the name of Kettland, whom Dr. Swan said was a locksmith who started business in England in 1715.

Army engineers made no effort to bring the ship to the surface because of the condition of its wooden structure.

Albacore, snook, and wahoo all are names of salt-water game fish.

Pitching Horseshoes By Billy Rose

This column concerns itself with a corner of my playground. A few years ago this corner was of interest chiefly to spiders and an old-fashioned clothes rack. Today it's well on its way to being the greatest show on earth.

But first let me give you some background material.

In 1940 when I bought the rambling joint in Mt. Kisco where Eleanor and I spend our summers, one of the rooms on the lower floor looked like a total loss. It was a small ballroom where the former owner had entertained the landed gentry of Westchester.

"What are we going to do with it?" asked Eleanor.

"If it's all right with you," I said, "I'd like to move a pool table into it. I know where I can buy one cheap."

"Okay," said my missus, "providing you don't hang out a sign reading, '2 1/2 a cue.'"

After the pool table was installed, I added an open-faced, upright, a midge bar, a second-hand Capehart and some colored jacks loaded with penny candy. In the walls I hung old prizefight pictures.

Well, for eight years now, this razzmatazz setup has been the most popular room in the house and plenty of jokes have been bounced off its walls.

Two years ago, Eleanor suggested we buy a television, and a simple record-changer to take the place of the complicated Capehart which was always going out of wack. I stalled and said I'd rather wait until these gadgets were perfected—that I didn't want to blow in my dough on stuff which would be obsolete in a few months. But last month I finally unbelted and bought a television, plus a thingamajony called a "Long-playing Microgroove Record-Player." The two gimmicks were set up catty-cornered near the pool table.

Since then, there's been more entertainment nightly in my playground than there was 30 years ago in all of Westchester. In addition to being my castle, my home has become my Loew's State, my Carnegie Hall and my Yankee Stadium.

Since we got the television, Eleanor and I have practically stopped going to the local picture house. Every night we see a bum movie on the television, and usually it's as good as the bum ones you see at the picture house. The time isn't far off when the studios will have a heck of a time selling anything but a first-rate movie.

In addition to bum pictures, television is beginning to come up with some good shows. The one I like best so far is the vaudeville hour sponsored by Texaco. Every Tuesday, Eleanor and I dine off a tray in the playground and watch the comedians, hoofers, singers and dog acts. It's a fairly expert job, and it goes down easily with an old cornball like myself.

Recently, a quick-witted gent named Henny Youngman MC'd this variety show and I found myself laughing as if I were his agent. Now I read where the show has signed Milton Berle for the next 40 weeks. Milton is an expert funnyman, and it's plenty sound to wire him for sight.

The microgroove record gadget is almost as much fun as television. It looks like an oversized fruit cake and you perch it on top of your regular phonograph. It plays records made of Vinylite (what-ever that is) and each of the 12-inch platters holds 45 minutes of music. The other night I listened to a Jerome Kern medley and loved every one of the 2,700 seconds. Thanks to this new noise box, it's at last possible to have symphonies without commercials—in short, music to read, gab, guzzle, cuddle, snooze or crack nuts by.

Even the old-fashioned radio promises to do something nice for my playground this season. In October many of the stations around the country are going to present a long-haired disc jockey—Deems Taylor—and as you know, on him the long hair looks good. The Taylor offering will consist of five half hours a week of recorded classics, with comment and guest-interviewing by the noted critic and composer himself.

I think this notion is a ten-strike. Deems is a civilized gent and his running commentary in Disney's "Fantasia" remains a memorable example of good humor mixed with good taste. When the disc-jockey business begins to speak with a voice like Taylor's, it means that its voice has finally stopped changing.

The total cost of the fun gimmicks in my playground is less than what I paid for my automobile. Currently, they're 10 times as much fun. If it weren't that Eleanor likes to dress up and go out occasionally, I'd be inclined to sell the car and never go out of the house.

Carve Pipeline Path in Desert

A new pipeline—designed to carry between 300,000 and 450,000 barrels of oil daily—is being pushed across the Saudi Arabian desert. It will run through 1000 miles of sand dunes. Bulldozers carve a path for the 30-inch pipeline in the desert near Ras Tanura.

'Skyhook' Aids New Pipeline

Desert and ocean are no obstacle to a new pipeline, being pushed through the Saudi Arabian desert between the Persian Gulf and the Mediterranean Sea. The steel pipe is carried for three miles over the gulf, at Ras el Mishab, on this man-operated "skyhook." The machine carries tons of steel pipe from ship to shore on cables.

Walkill High School Alumni Association

The second meeting of the Walkill Central High School Alumni Association was held August 11 in the school cafeteria. At this time a rough draft of the constitution was presented to the members by Susan Kobelt, chairman of the constitution committee. After corrections and additions were submitted by members, it was voted to accept the constitution.

Committees appointed by the president, Robert Miller, were as follows: Committee to write preamble for the constitution, Arnold Zimmer, Catherine Hotelling, and Dawn Mack; program committee for the December meeting, Fred Briehl, Lillian Kovitz, Dolores Niddie and Helen Schiro. Margaret Van Aken was elected as assistant treasurer to collect dues.

Refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed by all. The association is planning to have a picnic Thursday evening, August 26, at Williams Lake. The picnic supper will be served at 8 p. m. Any graduate of the Walkill School is cordially invited to attend. If one wishes, he may bring a guest. He should also bring a covered dish and sandwiches enough for himself and his guest. The association will furnish the utensils, drink and dessert.

Scarfs Pep Up School Togs

Tricks modeled above by the collegienne will show other girls figuring out back-to-school budgets what versatile acts scarfs can perform in extending a wardrobe. The colorful "crusader's helmet" (left) makes a weather-defying high-style hood for last year's greatcoat and will do as much for a sweater outfit or a suit. To put one of these atop your head fold a square scarf so that opposite ends meet in the center. Tie this robe up to it by placing it on your head so that one border frames the face. Pin border edges tightly under the chin. Gather up for loose fabric at each side and draw taut around the shoulders, anchoring firmly in front with pins.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

New flip for any old dress or sweater is a ballerina hair bow (center) which, made from a print scarf, looks lavish and stylized. To put one of these atop your head fold a square scarf so that opposite ends meet in the center. Tie this robe up to it by placing it on your head so that one border frames the face. Pin border edges tightly under the chin. Gather up for loose fabric at each side and draw taut around the shoulders, anchoring firmly in front with pins.

Two scarfs of identical pattern turn a neat ensemble into a simple suit (right). One scarf makes the cap-sleeve blouse. The other scarf, cut in half, faces the front of the jacket and poses as a matching lining. The blouse will require only a little skill to make. Begin by folding a silken square to form a triangle. Slip off the two side points of the triangle about 11 inches from the tip of the fold to be used as the sleeves. Now, slit scarf open along the fold to make a section for blouse front and one for the back. Sew the sections together on the sides. Sew on the sleeves so that the four points of the scarf meet at the neck opening. Turn the points under to make a round-of-neckline and cut a six-inch slit in back for the opening. Put in waistline darts to fit the blouse to the figure.

Ulster Residents Complete Specialized Course at New Paltz Teachers College

Eleven Ulster county residents have just completed a six-week course of college study at New Paltz State Teachers College. They have been enrolled at the New Paltz institution this summer in a program of specialized professional studies in elementary education.

Recently authorized by the New York State commissioner of Education and the Board of Regents, the intensive teacher-training program in which these local residents are studying, was organized for the purpose of supplying qualified personnel to alleviate the teachers shortage in elementary schools of the state. Under the plan, individuals who hold Bachelor's degrees could spend six weeks this summer taking specified courses which deal with the elementary school curriculum and child development. At the close of the summer course they received renewable certificates which enable them to begin teaching in September. Such persons must subsequently give evidence of satisfactory teaching and must continue to follow a program of approved study during successive summers. If, within a six-year period, they complete 30 semester hours of appropriate study, they may become eligible for permanent certification.

Following are those who completed the course: Miss Joan Whalen of 94 West O'Reilly street, Kingston, a graduate with Bachelor's degree from Ladyville College has received a conditional teaching certificate from the State Department of Education and has accepted a position in the Middletown school system. She will assume her duties there in September.

Richard Holbrook of 132 Prospect street, Kingston, a graduate with Bachelor's degree from the University of Vermont, has received a conditional teaching certificate from the State Department of Education and has accepted a position in District No. 3 Town of Hurley School. He will assume his duties there in September.

Paul A. Bierwisch of 37 Sterling street, Kingston, a graduate with a B. E. degree from State Teachers College, Albany, has received a conditional certificate in elementary school education from the State Department of Education.

Miss Gertrude H. Beichert of Port Ewen, a graduate with Bachelor's degree from the College of Saint Rose, has received a conditional teaching certificate from the State Department of Education and has accepted a position as teacher of kindergarten in the Port Jervis school system. She will assume her duties in September.

Regina M. Schmidt of West Park, a member of the staff of the Ghent school system, where she teaches children of the first and second grades, has earned a B. E. degree from the New Paltz College and is now securing additional training which will apply toward the degree, Master of Education. She is one of more than a hundred elementary school teachers who are enrolled in the program of graduate study being offered at the New Paltz Institution of Learning for the first time this summer.

Colonials and Stamford Split Twin Bill, Play Here Tonight

Sostre Wins in Debut, 6-4; Cashion Loses; K.P.A. Sponsors Contest Here

The Colonials split a doubleheader with bogey-man Zeke Bonura and the Stamford Pioneers last night in the Nutmeg State and tonight they move into municipal stadium for a single engagement which is the annual Kingston Patrolmen's Association contest.

Emil Sostre, new Cuban hurler, pitched a six-hitter to win the opener, 6 to 4, while the Pioneers drove Dave Cashion to the showers during a big eight-run fifth inning to grab the nightcap 8 to 4.

Kingston stayed three percentage points ahead of the Banana Men in fifth place.

Record Crowd Expected
One of the largest crowds of the season is expected for the K.P.A.-sponsored contest. While this is a regular Colonial League game, the police have conducted a private ticket sale which will boost the attendance to a new high for the season. A thousand children will be present as guests of the police.

The Big Banana Man who hits like a demon at the stadium will send Sid Schacht, his big ace, against the Colonials tonight, with Harry "Sluggo" Bedell as the probable local choice. Bedell has not been beaten at the stadium.

Services for Ruth
Kenneth Hyatt, president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association, announced this morning that a brief memorial service for Babe Ruth would be held prior to the start of the game.

Sostre survived a rocky fourth inning in the opener and needed help from Joe Kania after a mighty home run blast by Manager Eddie Kobesky sent the Colonials ahead 2-0 in the first inning. Eddie McNamara was on base at the time.

Trailing 4-3 the Colonials came up with three runs in the sixth to tie the issue. Manager Bonura used five pitchers in a desperate effort to salvage the contest.

Eight Run Inning
Stamford scored in only one inning in the nightcap—the fifth—but it was healthy eight-run splurge that decided the game then and there. Kingston peeked away at Larry Gaines for single markers in four different innings.

Catcher McGreal's triple with the bases loaded started the big fifth inning uprising which chased Cashion and brought out Sostre. Up to the time of the explosion, "Bono" was sailing along on a 3-0 lead and had batted "2 for 2."

Max Goldsmith came up with four hits in the twilight, two in each game. Kobesky walked twice and hit a single and homer in the opener. McNamara stroked two singles in the first game.

Boulevard Trips Jones, 3-2, Take First Place

Unearned Runs Ruin Windburn; Tomson Winner

A real "old pro" of the City Baseball League had a bad day and Boulevard Gulf capitalized on his momentary fielding lapses to defeat Jones Dairy, 3 to 2, and move into first place in the dizzy two pennant chase.

The "old pro" was Andy Celuch, veteran third sacker whose two costly errors accounted for two Boulevard tallies in the third inning, nullifying a neat three-hit job by Billy Windburn. All three Gulf runs were unearned.

Tomson Wins

"Hokie" Tomson was equally effective, yielding only four safeties but he was backed by errorless support and a brilliant throw by Charlie Lay that cut down the tying run at the plate. Furthermore the young man knocked in his own winning run.

Boulevard are out in front of Jones Dairy and Morgan's Rest by a half game and that in the win column. The top three teams have each lost four games. Chez Emile has lost five.

Celuch's first error in the third inning put George Glaser on base and his brother, Bill, followed with a walk. Rienzo fled out, Lay fanned but Windburn advanced both runners with a wild pitch. Bob Gheer hit a fairly easy chance to Celuch who tossed the ball over first base. Glaser brothers scoring for a 2-0 lead.

Gulfsmen Break Tie

Tomson got himself in trouble by walking, Gheer and Schatzel to start the Dairy fourth. Maines' tap to the box advanced both men and Celuch's fly to right was deep enough to score Gheer. Tomson pitched the second run for 2-2.

The winning run was the result of Forte's bouncer in front of the plate which Windburn picked up and tossed into right field. Forte moving to second. After Lowe's pass, Tomson drilled a single scoring Forte with the winning run.

Andy Radtke and Steve Zowak are the scheduled pitchers for today's clash between Wiltwyck Motors and Stauble's Bakery.

SILENT PRAYER AT RUTH'S DEATH

Members of the New York Yankees stand with bowed heads in dugout at Polo Grounds, New York, after news of the death of Babe Ruth, one-time Yankee and slugging king of baseball. Fans in the stands do likewise. The Yanks were playing an exhibition game with the New York Giants on the latter's home grounds.

Major League Roundup

By The Associated Press

Tommy Henrich, "Mr. Old Reliable" of the New York Yankees, earned a space in the little red book of baseball today by smashing his fourth grand slam home run of the season.

Only five players have hit four bases-loaded wallops during one campaign. They were Frank Schulte, Chicago Cubs, 1911; the one and only Babe Ruth, Boston Red Sox, 1919; Lou Gehrig, Yankees, 1934; Rudy York, Detroit Tigers, 1938; and Vince DiMaggio, Philadelphia Phils, 1945.

Henrich's fourth last night helped the Yankees defeat the Washington Senators, 8-1, at Griffith Stadium. The blow came in the third inning off lanky Sid Hudson and paved the way for young Bob Porterfield's first major league victory. The recruit from Newark, making his third big league start, would have had a shutout but for Sherry Robertson's home run in the eighth.

President Attends

The Yankee victory put a dent in ceremonies honoring Washington owner Clark Griffith. Among the dignitaries and capitol officials present was President Truman, who sat through the entire game.

Despite the triumph, the Yankees remained in fourth place, five full games back of the league-leading Cleveland Indians. Cleveland defeated the Browns, 8-0, in St. Louis. Lefty Gene Bearden pitched the Indians to their sixth straight triumph, holding the Browns hitless until the fifth inning and allowing only four hits the rest of the way. The Indians blasted starter Bill Kennedy, a former Indian, from the mound with six runs in the fifth.

Gray Wins 3rd

Rookie Ted Gray won his third straight game in his many starts as the Detroit Tigers staved off a late Chicago rally to turn back the White Sox, 6-4. Gray needed help from Virgil Trucks and Stubby Overmire when the White Sox rose up for three runs.

The Boston Braves held their two-game edge on the Brooklyn Dodgers in the light National League race, scarping the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds, 10-2. Big Bill Voiselle tamed his former teammates with six hits for his fourth victory over the Giants this year.

Both Giant runs came on home runs. Johnny Mize cracked his 28th in the fourth inning and Sid Gordon got his 23rd two frames later. Clint Conatser and Bob Elliott also homered for the Braves.

Rookie Carl Erskine registered his fifth straight pitching triumph, holding the Philadelphia Phils to eight hits as his Brooklyn mates belted him with 14 for an easy 10-1 victory. The Dodgers also took advantage of seven Philly errors and ran wild on the bases.

Gene Hermanski paced the Dodgers at bat with three hits and three runs scored.

Musial Hits 30th

In the only afternoon contest of the day, Johnny Schmitz pitched the Chicago Cubs for a 4-2 victory over the third place St. Louis Cardinals. Home runs by Stan Musial and Don Lang accounted for the Redbirds' runs. It was Musial's No. 30.

Phil Cavarretta, with a pair of hits and no runs, was the big stickman for the Cubs. The defeat dropped the Cards three and a half games behind the

To Fete Bat Boy

New York, (AP)—The New York Giants will honor their ex-bat boy at the Polo Grounds on September 19, in the first such occasion in the history of organized baseball. Garth Garreau, now a student at Michigan State College, will don the uniform he wore last year, on his day. For several years Garreau was visiting team bat boy, and last year performed the chore for the home club. Seven hundred and fifty citizens of Teaneck, N. J., Garth's home town, will honor him. Garreau has written a book on his experiences with the slugging Polo Grounders.

Drishow Night at Rhinebeck

Once again it was Drishow Night at Rhinebeck Speedway last evening before a large crowd and it was Stan Drishow this time taking the coveted first place in the 25-lap feature event of the evening. Starting in fourth position Stan brought his sleek Ford to the front about midway in the event and showed his heels the rest of the way to some of the best midget drivers and cars in the east. Breathing hard on Stan was Dutch Schaeffer, one of the most highly regarded drivers in midget circuits with Johnny Rice and Vernon Land following in that order. Drishows time was 6:14.39 and although slightly slower time than usual, the race furnished plenty of thrills for the crack field of 14 starters. Once in front, Drishow did some clever driving and kept his car against the inside rail and although challenged hard by Schaeffer at all times, he managed to eke out one of the closest victories seen this year at Rhinebeck. Larry Shurter, popular West Shokan driver was forced out of the main event after completing about half the distance with motor trouble. Previously Shurter had taken two first places in events with the same Drishow and Schaeffer as his opponents. Larry is fast becoming a top favorite to the midget fans and he is to be regarded as one of the betted drivers in the east.

Facing the starters flag next Tuesday at 8:30 will be another crack field featuring such stars as Dutch Schaeffer, Vernon Land, Johnny Rice, the Drishow brothers, Bob and Stan; Larry Shurter, and many more topnotch midget drivers.

Just before the main event last night the crowd stood for 30 seconds in silent reverence to the memory of another great sports figure, Babe Ruth, whose death cast a gloom upon the entire field of sports.

All-Star Softball Game Scheduled At Sahler Park

The City Softball League will stage its second all-star benefit game Thursday at Sahler's Park. A collection will be taken to help defray medical expenses of several league members who were injured in recent games.

The National Division All Stars defeated the Americans, 7 to 5, in a benefit for Don Buddenhagen several weeks ago. Jackie Ruzzo belted a home run and Buddenhagen received $34.

The tentative all-star roster for the two divisions follow:

American Division

Pitchers—Don Weeks, Joe Enright, Royal Grill, Danny Busch, B'nai Brith; "Snitz" Houghtaling, Sickler's.

Catchers—Sid Halpern, B'nai Brith; Tony Albany, Sickler's.

Infielders—Jim Madden, Art Steltz, Sheldon Levy, Buddy Smith, Form Coughlin, Charlie Grunenwald, Andy Murphy, Joe

Woods, "Bosco" Tomaseskie, Jack Ruzzo, Milt Dublin, Joe Norton, Jack Haber and Walt Schmitz.

National Division
Pitchers—Tom Spada, Walt Bigler, Subway Grill; Ed Lowe, Cord's Hose; "Chicken" Smith, Newcomb Oil.

Catchers—Dee Titus, Newcombe; Joe Scholar, Subway's; "Whitney" Meyers, Cord's Hose.

Infielders—Al Hunt, Joe Dolin, Paul Kaman, Joe Mangello, "Daisy" Schatzel, Clayt Sickler, Mike Rienzo, Bob Schatzel, "Red" Murray.

Outfielders—Murphy, Marquardt, Brown, Davis, Noble, Roc, Tommy Maines and Joe Fautz.

Tom Coughlin will manage the American Division, while Jason Goumas will manage the National.

B Team Gets Chance
Ithaca, N. Y., (AP)—The Cornell University B football team will play a four game schedule this season, with two home and two away games. On October 3 the squad will meet Cortland State Teachers at Cortland; October 15, Syracuse at home; October 23, Army at home, and on November 25 it will travel to Philadelphia to play the Penn B squad.

Will Build New Station
New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad has announced plans for construction of a new passenger station at Harmon, N. Y. The company said yesterday work on the new structure, which will be just east of the present station, will begin next spring and be completed within about five months. The $300,000 project also includes a 225-foot addition to the station's eastbound platform. Gustav Metzner, president of the railroad, said the new station is being built to accommodate an increased number of passengers using the Harmon station.

Bicycle Is Found
Mrs. Grace De Pasquale of 235 Smith avenue reported to the police about 11:18 p. m. Tuesday that she found an abandoned bicycle at her home. The Board of Public Works was notified to pick up the bicycle this morning.

Says 'Honeymoon' Over
New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—The annual legislative report of the Disabled American Veterans says that "the long honeymoon of Congress and the veterans is over." The report was presented yesterday to some 1,500 delegates attending the D.A.V.'s 27th national convention. Prepared by Francis M. Sullivan, director for national legislation, the report said: "While the Eightieth Congress did enact many veteran's laws, we of the D.A.V. must be realistic and face facts. * * * There are many indications on Capitol Hill that veterans will be confronted by a tightening up of grants. In fact, some of the more pessimistic observers are now warning of another economy act."

The name of the city of Walla Walla, Wash., is a Nez Perce Indian term meaning "many waters," according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Council Does Nothing
Tokyo, Aug. 18 (AP)—The four-power Allied Council for Japan has done it again. Nothing, that is, it held its 66th meeting today, heard American Chairman William Sebald say no matters were up for discussion, and adjourned—all in 27 seconds. It was the eighth consecutive meeting at which nothing happened. Before that the council attempted discussions, but every one ended in a Russian-American deadlock. Members finally quit trying.
